

INSTRUCTORS

FRANKIE MANNING — New York City

One of the founding fathers of Swing Dancing and perhaps the greatest Lindy Hopper of all time. In the 1930s, Frankie was a leading dancer and choreographer for the famous "Whitey's Lindy Hoppers." Under contract with the William Morris Agency, the troupe toured the United States, Europe, and South America, spreading the excitement of this new American dance style, and introducing Swing dancing to the world. He is credited with performing the first "aerials" in Swing! In 1992 he won a Tony award for his choreography in the Broadway hit Black & Blue, and today at age 93(!) he is still touring, still teaching, and still an electrifying dancer and personality. You won't want to miss meeting this remarkable man!

KENNETH AND HELENA NORBELIE — Sweden

Members of and teachers for the Swedish Swing Society, Kenneth and Helena are one of the top competition couples from Sweden — prior World Lindy Hop Champions — and are popular instructors at dance camps around the world. Most important, they have coached their own dance team, "Shout 'n Feel It," and brought them to world prominence! The team will be touring the United States and will be here at PBDA in July of 2007.

ERIN & TAMI STEVENS — Pasadena SCOTT PRICE — Pasadena

Erin and Tami Stevens are sisters and co-owners of Pasadena Ballroom Dance Association. They have been teaching Swing dancing for the past 24 years in Pasadena and at Swing camps around the world. In the early 1980s Erin went to New York in search of the roots of Swing and is credited with bringing Frankie Manning out of retirement.

Scott Price, a design engineer with Parsons Corporation, has been teaching and assisting in all classes at Pasadena Ballroom Dance Association for the past 17 years. Scott is one of the leading performance dancers with PBDA, having danced with the "Swingaroos" dance troupe throughout the United States and Europe.

ABOUT PASADENA

Besides being our home base, Pasadena itself has a lot to offer. We have two world-class museums: the Norton Simon and the Huntington Library. We have a bustling Old Town full of interesting restaurants and wonderful shops, including the mall at Paseo Colorado. Additionally, Lake Avenue is nearby and fun for strolling, shopping, and dining.
